Institutional Policy towards differently abled stakeholders

Background:

The institution is catering to the legal education and the allied requirements of all strata of the society including physically and mentally challenged. These types of stakeholders are found among the students, advocates, parents' community and the general public.

To enable these strata of the community to participate in the institutional practices and to make available the institutional facilities and resources to them, this institution has framed a special policy with the following items in its regular practices.

Facilities/Practices:

- An exclusive toilet room for differently abled is earmarked in the ground floor appended to the ramp and adjacent to the lift.
- For the wheelchair users and other such differently abled people, a ramp is annexed to the building at the right side with an exclusive entry for them and the same is convenient to use class rooms and the lift.
- Office rooms are placed in the ground floor itself so as to make it convenient for differently abled persons to have access.
- Library services are user friendly for differently abled people as the institution provides for every help in affording access to its resources in the library.

- Though the class rooms are available in all the 3 floors, the classes in which the differently abled students are enrolled are placed in the ground floor itself, that too very near to the ramp area.
- To make the differently abled students to utilize all the institutional services available in different areas of the campus, a lift with 1075 kg capacity is installed at the right end corner of the building.

Divyangajan friendly eco system:

The institution has a value based institutional mechanisms in the execution of all its practices. All the stakeholders have been sensitized to be empathetic and facilitative towards the Divyangajan. The institution has been successful in developing a proper ecosystem wherein all the learners are treated equally irrespective of the physical and mental variations.

Since its establishment, the institution has produced 7 professionals who belonged to differently abled category.
