

REPORT ON SELF SPONSORED ONE DAY STATE LEVEL WORKSHOP ON “LOGICAL THINKING AND PROGRAMMING SKILLS”

On 08/03/2019, One day self-sponsored state level workshop on “LOGICAL THINKING AND PROGRAMMING SKILLS” was been organized from department of Computer Science for B.Sc Computer Science Students as an IQAC and Science forum Initiative.

The resource person was Prof. Chandrashekar. P, HOD, Department of Computer Science from GFGC, Nelamangala. He has 22years of teaching experience and he has served as BOE Member, chairman, paper setter, Valuer, etc at University level. The registration fee was free for all the participants. About 120 students from 15 different colleges participated in this workshop along with few staff (teachers) who accompanied the students. The workshop was divided into 2 sessions. Morning session was theory and afternoon session was practical's.

The workshop dealt with some logic and programming skills which is very essential for computer science students. From this workshop students got some hands on experience and got some idea what is required to solve problems logically. Also they learnt mathematical relationship with logic and find solutions for specified problem.

The workshop started with the inauguration where principal Dr. R. Komala presided the event. And at the end of the workshop, a valedictory was arranged where all the student participants and the staff who attended were distributed with the certificates.

The students were served with food and snacks & tea during the workshop, which is sponsored by Shubha. S, HOD, Department of Computer Science. All the science staff – Dr. Srilatha. M. C and Kousalya. S and Prof. Renuka. R HOD, Dept. of English coordinated during the workshop.
