

G. Two IQAC initiatives and Report:

Initiative 1: Introduction of Wall Magazine

The Department of Social Work initiated the Wall Magazine namely, "Social Ride" along with the support of IQAC.

Objective:

- To introduce students to the day-to-day social issues.
- Preparing the students to understand the cause effect analysis of social issues.
- To develop critical understanding and find out workable solutions of social issues.

Implementation:

- Dept. of Social Work and IQAC Unit introduced fortnightly Wall Magazine namely "Social Ride". This activity was initiated on 27.03.2019. The total number of students were divided into five teams and facilitated to choose the following themes and they are :
 - a. Education
 - b. Health
 - c. Human and Child Development
 - d. Environment and Ecology
 - e. Policy and Court Verdicts of Social Issues
 - f. Agriculture Development

Each team opted their interested themes led by a leader, along with his / her members. The students are regularly reading the newspaper, journals and preparing the paper cuttings related to the themes. All such collected paper clippings were brought on the card sheets and were displayed on Wall Magazine. Team Leaders and Members will present their presentation and question answers sessions was held. Once the presentation is completed by all the team, all the paper clippings are documented.

Outcome:

The exercise of Wall Magazine enabled students of Social Work to relate and find the relevance of theory into practice. All the social issues and problems taught in classroom was practically introduced from different perspectives. As a result of this, students and faculty members upgraded in their skills and technics. The exercise brought critical understanding and structural analysis of society.

Initiative 2: Online Admission Help Desk

The Department of Collegiate and Technical Education and Rani Channamma University, Belagavi introduced online admission process for the academic year 2020-21. The admission process is totally computer and online based and majority of the students who comes for admission need to undergo the process and finding difficulties who hails from rural background. This issue was observed by the IQAC Unit of the College and "Online Admission Help Desk" was initiated.

All the students who comes for admission were oriented on process and helped them to fill the form and other related queries. The IQAC Unit of the College discussed with the Internet Browsing Centres and asked them to help the students to carry out the admission process with the reasonable cost.

This initiative helped around 150 students to fill the online application. In this process, the IQAC Unit involved the few II and Final Year students to help the new entrance and indirectly provided an opportunity to equip themselves into technology friendly atmosphere.
